

2009 FBA PRO TOUR Event Requirements

Version 1.3
Revised 30-June-09

The FBA PRO TOUR is a linked system of Flair Bartending competitions in locations all over the world. Competitors will compete in these Tour events to earn Tour points. These points will be calculated and will accumulate over the entire year for each competitor. At the end of the year the competitor with the most points will be crowned TOUR CHAMPION.

The events in the FBA PRO TOUR can be of Regional, National or International in scale, but must be open to all competitors. Events may vary in format, rules, and sponsors but all must be approved by the FBA. The Tour will have different levels of events in 2009 consisting of "Tour Events" and "Major Tour Events". See the requirements table below for more details.

The FBA PRO TOUR is funded entirely by the events contributing to the point accumulation. The Pro Tour fees will be USD$1000 for Majors and a reduced fee of USD$500 for all other events. Top competitors will be rewarded with trophies, FBA Premium Memberships and custom Pro Tour jerseys. As the Pro Tour continues to grow and add events, we plan to secure an overall tour sponsor, which will help increase the rewards for the top competitors.

Any event may apply to join the FBA PRO TOUR. We require ample time be given to review and approve the rules and format. All format and rules must be submitted to the FBA well before the event date to be approved and with MAJOR EVENTS even sooner. Review the requirements table below for the submission deadline based on desired Tour Level.

One of the goals of the FBA PRO TOUR is to provide a common "sport" platform for the competitors to understand and excel in. While the goals of the events as well as the look and feel may be different, the judging criteria and scoring system should be compatible from one to the others... NOT NECESSARILY THE SAME, but compatible. This allows competitors to easily transition from one event to another with minimal competitor and staff confusion as well as lower administration overhead.

We strive to be as fair as possible to all competitors around the world. Keeping this in mind, we require a minimum notice time for each level of the FBA PRO TOUR. These notices are to allow competitors to fully prepare for each event on the tour.

To apply to have an event become part of the FBA PRO TOUR, fill out the application form online at www.fbaprotour.com. Review the table below for the application deadline based on desired Tour Level.

2009 PRO TOUR GUIDELINES:

Qualifiers:

Typical events have one or more sequential days of qualifiers immediately followed by a finals event. This allows competitors who have to travel to the event have the same chances as those who live locally and may have qualified at an earlier time.

Some events run multiple qualifiers spanning weeks or even months, with a grand final at the end of the series. Typically the finalists are determined by the top competitors from each month. The exact process of determining the finalists must be clearly posted with the rules deadline. To allow traveling competitors a fair chance of only having to make the journey once, an “out of town”/”last chance” qualifier should be held just prior to the final event. This last qualifier should give preference to out of town competitors over locals and repeat competitors.

We strongly recommend that Level 1 Pro Tour Events should have both qualifiers and finals on the same day. With the lower prize money available, this consolidation to 1 day allows competitors to minimize their costs and time away from work.

Another option to assist out of town competitors is to offer Wild Card spots.

Wild Cards:

A “Wild Card” spot is a straight shot to the finals when not directly qualifying through normal means. This can be accomplished in several ways.

- Taking a few of the highest scored competitors who did not make the cut in normal qualifying.
- Taking several other competitions top finishers as Wild Card spots. The number of spots and from which competitions these spots will come from must be declared and posted at least 2 month prior to the execution of said Wild Card event, and the FBA must be informed of these Wild Card Spots at this time.
- The champion from the previous year may be invited back as a Wild Card.
- A “free ride” may not be given. Wild Cards must be based on results of competing in a legitimate competition and fully justified.

FBA Members:

All scores are tracked by the competitors FBA Number, therefore every competitor must be registered with the FBA. Registering with the FBA grants them the basic FBA Membership. The Basic FBA Membership is FREE so they will not have to pay anything extra to the FBA to compete and they will be granted limited access to the FBA Members Lounge with this package.

Competition Results:

Competition results must be turned in to the FBA in the correct format no later than 5 business days after the completion of the event. These results must be submitted in MS Excel, PDF, HTML, or MS Word file formats. The data must be formatted in the following table style layout.

- Leave the first column blank
- Competitor Name is only used for checking accuracy
- FBA ID # MUST BE ACCURATE
- A tool will be provided for FBA ID to be looked up if needed
- Most events will duplicate the Place and Place to Process.
- Notes can be anything that may explain something special about that score.
- Leave Contest ID blank.
